Mercy Philadelphia Hospital Concludes 100th Anniversary Year Celebration

Mercy Philadelphia Hospital hosted its 100th Anniversary Community Block Party on June 30 to wind up the celebration of its century of service to the West and Southwest Philadelphia community. Hosted by Mercy Health System President & CEO Susan Croushore and Hospital Executive Director Susan Cusack, hundreds of hospital colleagues, executives and volunteers, and community partners and neighborhood families attended the event.

The gala occasion wrapped up the hospital’s year-long 100th-anniversary celebration—a “Year of Mercy.” It included lots of food and snacks, non-stop live entertainment, a concert by the Mercy Philadelphia Choir, Zumba exercise classes, pony rides, a petting zoo, rock wall climbing, numerous bounce balloons and other activities for children. Mercy Philadelphia Hospital, a member of Mercy Health Systems, is located 501 S. 54th Street. Its broad range of care and treatment services include, but are not limited to: Bariatrics, Heart Care, Physical Therapy and Rehab, Diabetes and Emergency Care, Gastroenterology, Geriatrics, Gynecology Services and Post-Partum Care, LIFE (Living Independently for Elders), a Physical Therapy, Rehabilitation, and Wellness Center, Mental Health and Neurology care, Orthopedic Services, Outpatient Care, Pain Management, Primary Care, Radiology/Diagnostic Imaging and Respiratory treatment. Mercy Philadelphia Hospital can be reached at 215.748.9000 or at Central Scheduling: 610.237.2525. For physician referrals call 1.877.466.3729.

Information for this article was graciously provided by Thomas J. Logue and Darrah Pilieri of AKCG—Public Relations Counselors. Photos are courtesy of Mercy Health Systems.